

EMBARGOED: Tuesday 6:30pm 30TH JULY 2013

Exciting new construction company launches in Canberra

30th July 2013 – Liam Kelly, 30, launched his new brand – Banyan Constructions – at Regatta Point in Canberra. This values driven company aims to create environments that nurture modern family and business life.

Member for Canberra, Ms Gai Brodtmann MP, addressed the launch and emphasised the importance of the construction industry in our growing city. She congratulated Liam on his fresh approach.

Liam Kelly is the Founder and Managing Director of Banyan Constructions, with over 14 years' experience in the construction industry, he directly employs 12 people and dozens of subcontracts across his business. Already well known for his personal integrity and professional excellence, Liam is determined Banyan will become a leading brand in the Australian construction industry, known for its quality products, first class service, and value for money. While his plan focuses on Canberra initially, the stage is set for significant expansion across Australia in the near future.

“Canberra is a special place for me and we are ready to change the game,” Mr Kelly said.

Liam is passionate about building – building exceptional private and commercial environments; building workplaces that attract the best talent and provide ongoing personal development opportunities; building leading businesses known for their excellent products and services; and building on his already successful career in order to support local communities through his philanthropic endeavours.

With eight residential developments totalling 79 houses and 52 units on the books already, for completion between September 2013 and the end of 2015, Banyan Constructions is a serious new player in the Canberra building industry.
